SPIRIT . . . enthusiasm . . . energy . . . fire . . . a pervading influence.

All of Madison's students recognize 1965-1966 as being the year for spirit. Each succeeding week through the semesters has seen a growth of unity and pride in our school.

This fine spirit was maintained through the SCA theme: achieving goals by developing potential, improving communication, stressing honor, obtaining unity, and nullifying disinterest.

The yearbook staff has attempted to present a complete view of this year of activity. It is our hope that Montpelier 1966 represents Madison's full spirit.

This has been a year of spirit;

a time

for activity.

Each of our accomplishments has required our own special efforts.

Our work has brought times of conflict:
with ourselves,
and those with us.

And still, each of many weeks is filled with the scheduled routine

of school life.

Merry Christmas

Studies notwithstanding,
students found the time
to participate---to help
Madison through activities.

Principal Encourages School Spirit

So much of life is centered around and moved by those intangibles which cannot be touched, measured, or even seen. Love, faith, hope, morale, mental attitude, emotion, an almost endless list of terms, often overlap and criss-cross in an indefinable pattern of meanings and definitions.

So it is with SCHOOL SPIRIT! What is it? How do you define it, measure it, or evaluate it? From each person there comes a different answer. But, even so, the casual observer in the school is sensitive to its presence from the moment he walks through the first door. To build it, good leadership, varied activities, fine teachers, successful athletic teams, friendly students, all help. We strive for them — and we could give ourselves an A for effort at Madison.

But the most important ingredient in this particular recipe has been you. You have become involved and interested in the activities of your school. "Get with it!" has been the slogan — and SCHOOL SPIRIT is your own private gift to Madison. Trust that it shall never wane.

SENIORS

Steven Rouzer, Pres., Judy Mauldin, Sec., Marion McAmis, V. Pres., Betty Ryan, Treas.

The Class of '66 has worked hard throughout its years at Madison to raise funds, so that in its Senior year time could be devoted to services to the class and the school. Working with the SCA to increase school spirit gave the class many opportunities to demonstrate its leadership and enthusiasm. The Seniors actively participated in such school projects as the SPTA drive, Cans for Christmas, and the Magazine Drive. Along with recollections of hard work, Senior memories included senior privileges, "It's Academic" triumph, college boards, announcements, and class night. All the work, satisfaction, and enjoyment was climaxed at Constitution Hall on graduation night.

JUNIORS

The Class of 1967 has devoted this year to helping Madison through active participation in all events and in raising money for the prom. For the entire year, the Juniors have worked each morning in the Breakfast Club selling doughnuts and milk to students. In the fall, they emphasized this major fund-raising activity in their Homecoming float, a parade of doughnuts. December brought the Juniors contributing food in the Cans for Christmas drive. During the annual magazine drive the Class of '67 sold eagerly and were rewarded with a substantial percentage of the profits. As a final project, the Juniors sponsored a spaghetti dinner and the Junior Class play, Teahouse of the August Moon. All of these efforts were climaxed in June when the Class of '67 held the Junior-Senior Prom and, finally, moved into the position of seniors.

SOPHOMORES

Karen Schiavetti, Sec., Brinn Colenda, Treas., Drake Byrum, V. Pres., Leo Eiden, Pres.

The Class of '68 dedicated itself to the cultivation of school spirit. By placing emphasis upon participation in school affairs, the class was able to begin its second year at Madison by capturing first place honors in the Homecoming Float competition. This success was soon followed by an overwhelming victory in the Cans for Christmas Drive.

Other Sophomore projects have included various bake-sales held intermittently throughout the year and the traditional Sophomore Pizza Panic.

FRESHMEN

Joanne Dost, V. Pres., Mimi Sullivan, Pres., Adele de Polo, Sec., Lynn McAmis, Treas.

The Class of 1969 has exhibited excellent spirit and interest in school affairs during its first year at Madison. Their bakesales and soc hops proved very successful, and their participation in school activities rivaled the other classes. Lack of experience in the magazine drive was not harmful as the Freshmen won the drive, leading all the way.

The Class was enthusiastic in supporting their teams. The Freshman basketball team, which was very successful, remained undefeated until the last game, which they lost by one basket.

Madison's S.C.A. was composed of four officers, several cabinet members, club presidents, and homeroom representatives. The governing body, led by President Ken Vickery, chose Spirit as the year's theme and School Improvement as its goal. This program involved landscaping school grounds and purchasing a new showcase for the entrance hall.

The student body actively participated in such S.C.A. projects as Cans for Christmas, the Magazine Drive, and International Week The S.C.A. also served as the link between the student body and the administration.

Cabinet and Senior Council Organize Special Projects

The Senior Council, which was made up of the class officers and a representative and alternate from every American government class, guided and governed the Senior class. The council organized various money-making projects and brought senior information on such activities as the class float and how to order announcements and caps and gowns.

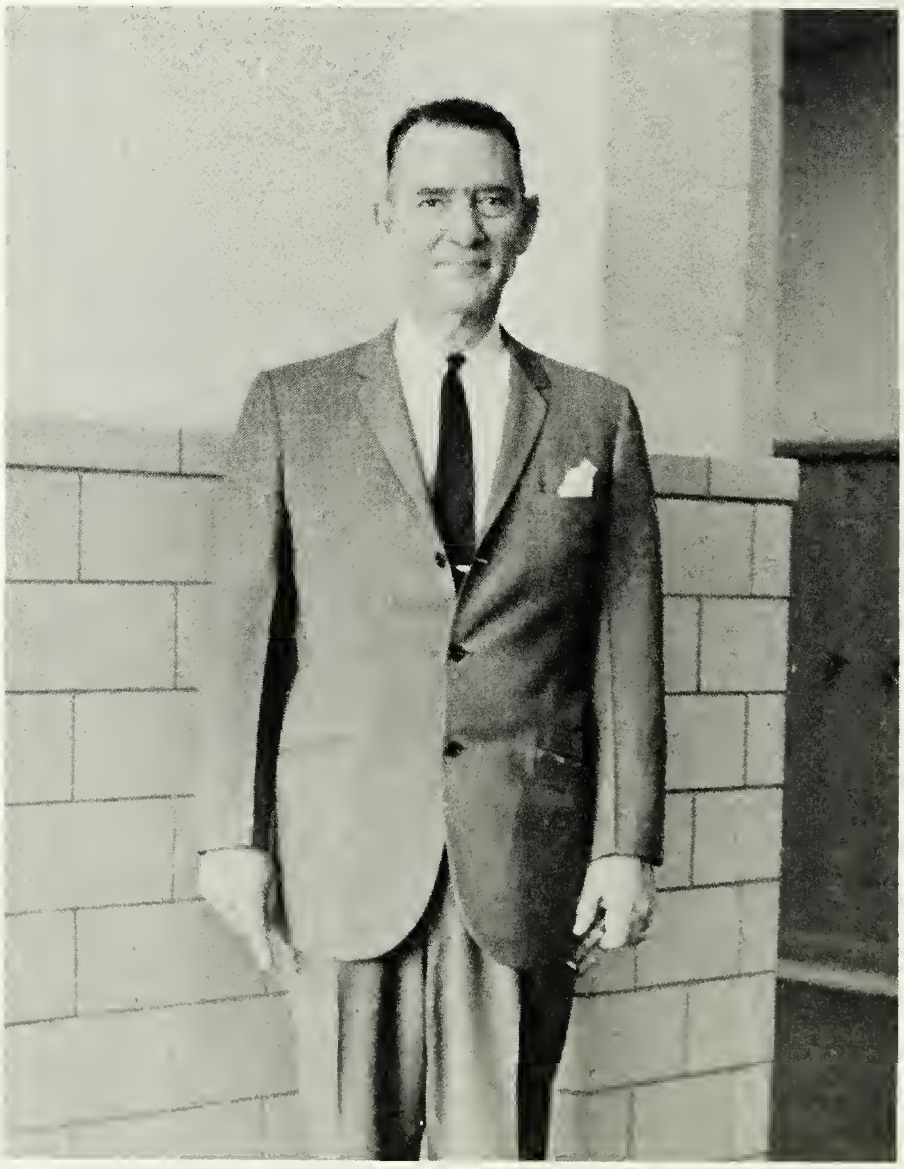
Honor Society Promotes

Alicio Phillips, Sec.; Bob Tigner, Treas.; Mike Elliot, Vice Pres.; Bill Pollord, Pres.

Again this year, the qualities of character, scholarship, leadership, and service were the standards of the James Madison chapter of the National Honor Society.

The candle-lit induction ceremonies before the Madison students highlighted the year for the society. The organization worked to revise the present honor system and buy books for the library. The Honor Society also played a part in the annual Academic Awards Banquet. Under the supervision of sponsor Captain Hoffman, the Society was a model of character, scholarship, leadership, and service to all Madison students.



Capt. G. D. Hoffmon, Sponsor.

Madison Club Strives to Serve

A boy stands in the dark parking lot with a flash light. Who is he? A member of Madison Club, of course. Among this Service club's many activities were parking cars, serving at school banquets and at plays and basketball games, and helping landscape the school grounds.

The club also sponsored soc hops, and participated in such S.C.A. projects as the Cans for Christmas Drive. Madison Club was an active organization which strived to serve in all possible areas of school life.

Choir Council Assists

The Concert Choir this year had an active season. It performed works from Bach to Copeland with equal heights of quality. Under Mr. Guidotti's direction concerts were given at the Pan American Union for Christmas and at Marymount College in March. A special concert was performed at Christmas time for parents.

Members of the Concert Choir made up a large part of the Camelot cast including the leading parts of Arthur, Guinevere, Lancelot, and Pellinore. Without the talent gathered in the choir, Camelot would not have been possible.

Mr. Guidotti in Working with Concert Choir

A council of 6 outstanding students was elected by the choir at the end of last year. Their aims were to assist the Director and the students, execute administrative and business matters, and serve as class representatives to Mr. Guidotti. The council recommended students for demerits and assisted Mr. Guidotti in giving exams. It was also responsible for music, robes, and records.

Madison's sixteen renowned Madrigal Singers had a very busy and exciting year. Like the Concert Choir, they sang both sacred and secular music from all musical periods. They performed at the Washington International Center, Potomac School, St. Stephen's Church in Washington, and at two high schools in Richmond, Virginia.

The year was highlighted by a special concert featuring works by Washington composers, held at the Pan American Union in March and a performance in the Senate Rotunda in April.

Plans were made to make an extensive singing tour of Europe in the summer. The Madison Madrigal Singers was one of the three high school groups in the United States ever to be invited to participate in two European choral contests. Funds to finance this trip were donated by various community and school organizations and several generous individuals.

Thanks to the continuous efforts of Mr. Guidotti and the Madigral Singers, Madison had a music department to be proud of.

Without constant hard work in rehearsals, the Madrigal singers could never have achieved their high degree of excellence. These practices were held daily for an hour, and often after school and on week-ends.

Madrigals Plan European Tour

On Wednesday, February 9, the Music Department announced the proposal that the Madigals and Mr. Guidotti, with several parents and teachers as chaperones, would go on a tour of Europe.

The School Board has granted permission for this tour; now the major drive to collect approximately $20,000 has started. The Madigals have already secured $8,850 in the following ways; $5,000-Fairfax County Board Of Supervisors; $2,500-Vienna Town Council; $250-Rotary Club; $50-Wesley Methodist Church; $50-St. Thomas Episcopal Church; $100-Private donations. The SCA made a donation. Other concerts, including one secured by Senator Harry Byrd, Jr., at the Rotunda of the Capitol, provided other means of getting money.

A group of Madrigal parents also worked to secure many of the donations made thus far. These parents include Mrs. Bailey, Mrs. Conway, Mrs. Donaldson, and Mr. Dahl. Other individuals who were helpful included Councilwoman, Mrs. Martha Pennino and a committee from the Vienna Rotary Club under Mr. Fred Williams.

A proposed itinerary for the tour was drawn up. Under this schedule the group arrived June 30 at Shannon Airport in Limerick, Ireland. They are to be on tour until August 31; their stops included Limerick and Dublin, Ireland; Holyhead and Llangollen in Wales; Coventry, Oxford, Stratford, and London in England; Blankenberge, Germany; Bruges and Brussels in Belgium; Amsterdam, Netherlands; Rothenburg and Munich; Innsbruck, Kitzbuhel (Oberndorf), Salzburg, St. Georgen, Gmunden, and Vienna in Austria; Venice, Florence, Rome, and Arezzo in Italy; and finally Luxembourg. They departed from Luxembourg for the USA. During this time they gave 26 concerts and entered two competitions.

Symphonic Wind Ensemble

Madison's Band Department is composed of several instrumental groups. The Concert Band marched and played at football games, and various parades. The Symphonic Wind Ensemble concentrated on contemporary music, and with the Concert Band attended the Band Festival at Jefferson High School. The Orchestra, a new addition, played at Camelot and performed with the Concert Choir at the Pan American Union. At the Northern Virginia Band Festival our Dance Band won second place. Outstanding individuals performed at the Solo Festival.

Drill Team and Majorettes Add Color to Games

In its second year the girls' drill team continued to decorate Madison games and assemblies. The color guard, which exhibited the flags, led the drill team and added greatly to events in which it participated.

Madison's attractive majorettes were also present at football games and accompanied the band in several parades. Their year was highlighted by a flame-twirling exhibition at a football game.

GAA Aims for New Softball Uniforms

"Wanted: $450 to purchase softball uniforms for the girls' varsity and junior varsity teams." The Girls' Athletic Association worked towards this goal mainly through the concessions at football games.

The G.A.A. is an organization which promotes, encourages, and participates in girls' sports at school. There are several different ways of qualifying for membership; such as, receiving a letter from the Athletic Department, completing one hundred hours as a gym assistant, or participating in two extra-curricular sports. The club sponsored activities ranging from bowling groups to initiations to parties. The G.A.A. helped to unify the many girls that participated in school sports.

AFS Sponsors Many Projects

In the words of Kunio Yanagi, our Japanese foreign exchange student this year, "The A.F.S. Club is the greatest!" Kunio and Jill Thomas, our student from Australia, were brought here this year through the hard work of the James Madison Chapter of the American Field Service. The satisfaction of being able to acquaint students from foreign countries with American life was ample reward for the efforts of the A.F.S. Club members.

Fund-raising activities in the fall included the sale of corsages and A.F.S. Christmas cards while in the spring the club sponsored Discount Week and the annual horse show. The club coordinated its activities with those of the adult chapter of the A.F.S.

Social activities like the Welcoming Tea and the International Dinner gave members the opportunity to learn about the customs and habits of foreign peoples.

Without the A.F.S. Club the Foreign exchange students could not get a first-hand view of American culture; thus, in this way, the A.F.S. Club is an important part of Madison school life.

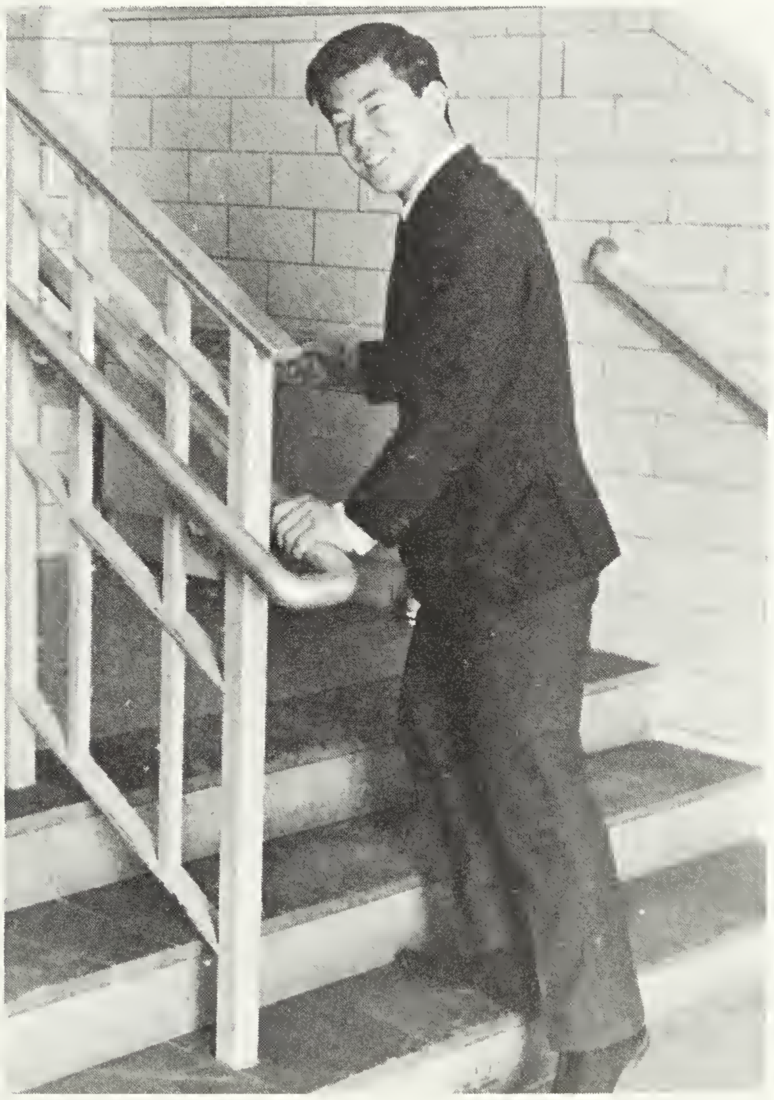
Jill Thomas

Jill Thomas, our foreign exchange student from Australia was born on November 26, 1947. Her Australian home is in Canberra, while here in Vienna, she lived with Donna Cross's family. Once back in Australia, Jill plans to continue her education at either the Australian National University or Melbourne University. Her major field of study will probably be some area connected with medicine. After a tour of the United States in July, Jill left for Australia.

Madison Enriched by Exchange Students

Kunio Yanagi

Kunio Yanagi, from Japan, who was born on May 22, 1947, lived with Mike Wholey and his family. Kunio's hometown in Japan is Omiya-shi in Saitauraken province. He will complete a semester of school when he returns to Japan, because this year at Madison did not give him any credits toward a diploma in Japan. After high school he plans to attend college and major in either economics or political science. Kunio returned home in July also.



Thespians Encourage Drama

"The play's the thing" or so say members of the JM Thespian Troupe which is an honor society for drama students. Its members worked together to create an interest in drama.

Throughout last year, the Thespians met with other local drama groups, exchanging ideas. By working behind-the-scenes in the backstage and technical crews of Madison's productions, they greatly enhanced audiences' pleasure.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Brown, the students have recognized and encouraged new talent and have awarded membership to those who have merited it. Plans made for the future included the establishment of a yearly Thespian project and the creation of an annual reunion for all former members.

Heritage Staff Encourages Creative Work

To sponsor and encourage creative talent in writing and art was the aim of HERITAGE, Madison's bi-annual literary magazine. Both winter and spring issues were filled with original poetry, prose, and artwork created by Madison students.

Teas were held before the distribution of each issue to honor those represented in the magazine. At the teas, prizes were awarded for the best contribution in each of three categories.

SOMETHING OF MYSELF

Something of myself has changed,
and I am longing where once
I stood content.
I do not belong here where morning scares the birds to flight;
where evening used to find me
peaceful, now I wander lonely roads.
Something calls me from my slumber to watch the moonlight in the field.
Something of my song has vanished—
Has it lost its harmony?

Yearbook Theme of Spirit is Seen in Staff

Spirit was the theme of this year's MONTPELIER, which endeavored to record the events and memories of 1966 in an attractive and complete yearbook.

Under the guidance of Mr. Strohm, the staff worked throughout the year to produce the best possible results in such areas as artwork, layout, copy, and content. Each member of the staff was responsible for a specific aspect of MONTPELIER, and in addition, worked with all involved to produce a unified and enjoyable yearbook.

HAWK TALK

"How's Camelot production coming along?" "Who were the Merit Scholarship Finalists?" These questions and many others were answered in HAWK TALK, the school newspaper. In addition to reporting school activities and events, the paper also contained in each issue an editorial on such topics as school spirit and the honor system. Roto, a magazine supplement, discussed problems of teen interest from a national viewpoint.

With Mrs. Donohoe's valuable help, the staff produced a paper that was an interesting chronicle of school life.

Active Journalists Honored by Quill and Scroll

Officers: Steve Rouzer, Sec.; Dave Bagley, Vice Pres., Marion McAmis, Pres.

Those students who actively worked on one of three publications or the business staff were rewarded by induction into Quill and Scroll, the National Honorary Society for Journalists. Requirements for induction were a "C" average and the accumulation of at least 100 points by working on publications.

Besides the honor of induction, each member received a magazine containing articles concerning high school journalism.

John Duncon, Poul Taylor, Grohom Strong.

Business Staff

The financial matters of the three publications were taken care of by Madison's Business Department. They sold block subscriptions, distributed the yearbook and sold ads to finance HAWK TALK, MONTPELIER, and HERITAGE. In addition, they corresponded with other area schools by trading newspapers. Under Mr. Anglin's direction, the staff relieved publications of the task of raising funds and handling business matters.

Groups Help Publication Staffs

Camera Club

"Don't look at the Camera! This is a candid." Members of the Camera Club have been heard saying these words when taking pictures for the yearbook and the newspaper. In this way they gave a valuable service to the school and improved their own photographic techniques. The five members of the club also took pictures at dances and developed all photos themselves. Under Mr. Church's direction, the boys aided the school publication.

Who is man's best friend? Members of the Club Hippique would argue that the horse is. They were given the opportunity to improve their appreciation of good horsemanship.

The club's activities included riding trips around the area and an annual horseshow held in conjunction with the A.F.S. Club. The Club Hippique was devoted to developing interest in horses and their care.

Are all the members of the Art Club creative and artistic geniuses? Of course not! The club's purpose is to offer its members the opportunity to develop the talent they have. It also provides a means of self-expression for any interested student by encouraging an "Art Fellowship" in which each member helps the others. The club sponsored an annual Art Festival to promote enjoyment of the art forms by all Madison students. In addition to the Art Festival, the club projects included sketching trips in the area, visiting art galleries, and making original Christmas Cards.

''Don't spill the red paint on that poster!'' This exclamation could easily have been heard in one of the after-school sessions of the Spirit Club. The club was responsible for the posters and banners in the halls before football and basketball games. To increase the spirit of the team members, the club also made and mounted clever pep-boosters on players' lockers. The Spirit Club coordinated all efforts to increase school spirit and student participation.

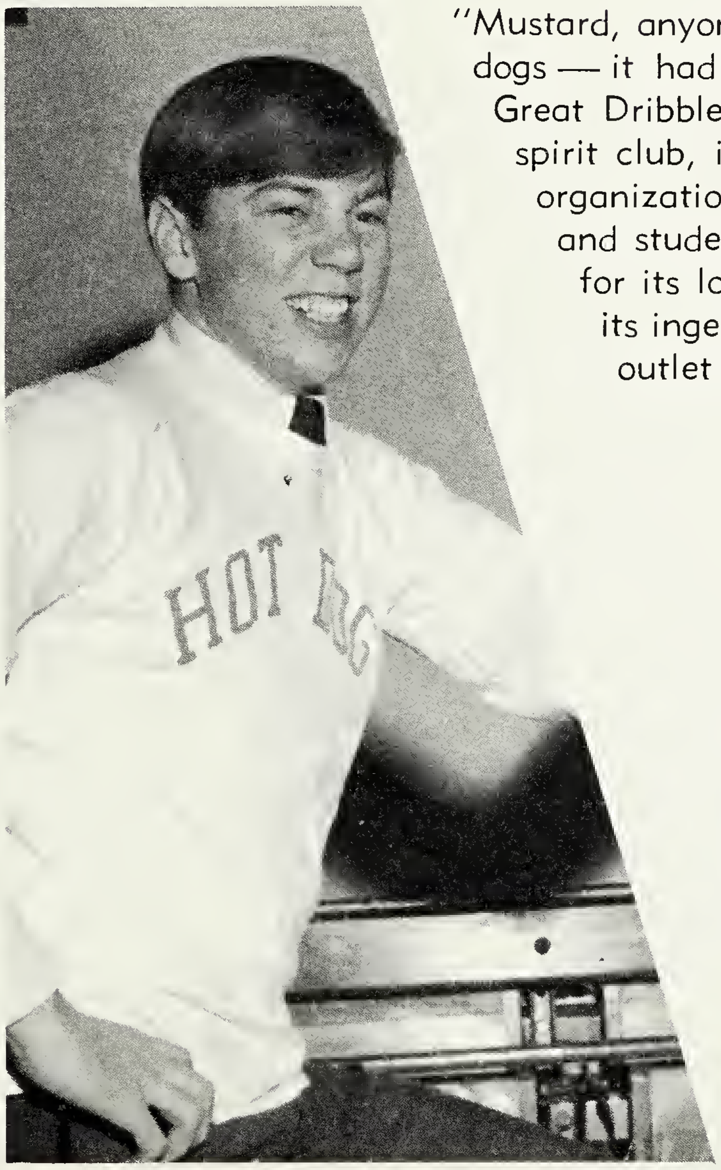
The "Great Dribble" Highlights Hot Dog Club

Jim Stiegman, Vice President



"Mustard, anyone?" No, the Hot Dog club didn't sell hot dogs — it had more important activities, such as the Great Dribble from Madison to Marshall. The boys' spirit club, in its first full year as an official JM organization, boosted the spirit of both athletes and students alike. The club was best known for its loud cheering section at games and its ingenious stunts. It provided a pleasant outlet for Madison's spirit-minded boys.

"Gallia est omnis divisa in partes tres . . ." The Latin Club, sponsored by Rex Morganus, not only promotes scholarship and study of the classics, but sponsors an authentic Roman banquet opened to all Latin students. For an evening, the pupils relive the days of the Roman Empire. Also, some of the members, consisting of Latin III and IV students, attend the Latin Conference held in Richmond.

Wanderungs Geht Gute

"Achtung!" This year's German club stressed appreciation and knowledge of German culture. This aim was accomplished through such enjoyable activities as "Wanderungs" or hikes, and Faschingsball, a pre-Lenten dance. These were inter-school activities and German clubs from other area schools participated. The officers and members worked to improve and unify the club throughout the year.

Science Club Holds Fair

Where do the scientific-minded students at Madison get together? In the Science Club, of course. At meetings, which were open to everyone, lectures were given by science authorities, films were shown, and subjects of scientific interest were discussed. The purpose of such activities was to promote and encourage participation in the Science Fair, provide extra-curricular activities in scientific fields, and coordinate and exchange information in all fields of scientific endeavor. Other activities included trips to such places as the Systems Development Corporation and sponsorship of the Science Fair, which is the club's main project.

Clubs Encourage Interest in Science

Rocket Club

This year the Rocket Club drew up the entire plans and built a rather large rocket which they planned to launch at Camp Pickett in the late spring. Besides the major launching at Camp Pickett, the club also constructed and shot off several small model rockets. The clubs' aim is to increase its members' knowledge of rocketry and their experience in this field.

FTA Members Teach

Madison students at Flint Hill Elementary? They didn't go back to grade school to learn, but to teach. This field trip was one of the many activities sponsored by the Future Teachers of America to explore the opportunities in education as a career. Besides student teaching, members visited various colleges, offered tutoring services to Madison students, and corrected papers for teachers. In these many ways the F.T.A. contributes to both the school and the community while obtaining information and skills in the field of education.

FHA Has Successful, Active Year

The Future Homemakers of America, a national as well as a state and county organization, tries to mold America's future homemaker into a responsible citizen. For the 38 members, this year has provided many activities. Among them were, a progressive dinner and initiation of new members in the fall, a Christmas Party, workshops to make gifts for children in an orphanage, a fashion show, the annual mother-daughter banquet, a secret pal revealing party, summer camp, bake sales, and selling fruit cakes. With the money received from the fruit cakes, the club helped buy a much needed dishwasher for the Home Economics Department.

Seated Janet Sellers, Vice Pres.; Mary Robey, Pres.; Standing Louise Mooney, Reporter; John Baker, Treas.; Jo Traina, Parliamentarian; Kathy Maare, Historian.

Preparation for the business world and service to the school and community were the major aims of this year's Future Business Leaders of America. Members strived to develop competent, aggressive business leadership.

The club worked to attain its goals through such activities as sending holiday baskets to needy families, having guest speakers in the business field, and taking various trips. In addition the F.B.L.A. sponsored many social get-togethers such as bowling and roller skating parties. The F.B.L.A. unites those Madison students interested in business as a career.

Despite Team Effort

Although Madison did have a disappointing football season of two wins and eight losses, there were two stand-outs among the individual players. At the Awards Banquet, Butch Decker was awarded Most Valuable Player and Dick Dost was named Most Valuable Lineman. Richard Hibbs and Chas Bowers were also honored as Most Valuable Back and Most Improved Player, respectively. Dennis Coffinberger was given the Coaches' Award.

Highlights of the '65 season were the 28 to 14 win over Jefferson and an exciting 25 to 20 victory over Mount Vernon.

Cage Hawks Improve Record to 6-11

Captain Terry Poole

Substantial improvement over last year was evident in this year's Varsity basketball team. The Cagehawks finished the season with a 6-11 record. In the district tournament, Madison lost to Annandale by a close score of 66 to 57. Tony Conway was both high scorer and high rebounder for the season. At the Awards Banquet he was also named Most Valuable Player. Most Improved Player was Jim Dickson, and Terry Poole received the Coaches' Award. The season was actually more successful than the record shows as many of the losses were by small margins.

Diamond Hawks Win District Championship;

Madison's Varsity Baseball Team was one of the most successful athletic squads of the school year. In regular season play, Coach Hall led the Hawks to a 6-4 league record for a second place finish in the Northern District. Outstanding performances were continually turned in by M.V.P. Dick Dost who was one of the top area hurlers. Freshman Jim Garland was the leading hitter and a consistent defensive player. In post season play, the team was even more successful, as it won the District Tournament before defeating regular season winner, Woodson for the championship. A great many underclassmen were members of the Varsity squad indicating that Madison should have a strong team in future years.

Miss Sibson gives pre-game pep talk to starting players.

As Varsity Coach Sibson said, "It was a great softball season." The Varsity finished first in the county and the J.V. tied for second. All-round good hitting and fielding led the Varsity to their County championship. The J.V. team under Coach Dean was also very successful. Bev Jenkins had two no-hitters during the season. Good ball playing characterized both teams throughout the season. At the Annual Awards Program Madonna Young was named Most Valuable Player and Charlene Buser was given the Most Improved Player Award.

Track Team Has Successful Season;

The '66 track season was marked by eight new school records—James Boyd in the hundred yard dash, Rick Leobold in the 220 and 440, Mike Scurto in the mile, Frank O'Hara in the two-mile, Dave Jones in the shot put, Nick Dellamonico in the pole vault, and Tom Peyton in the triple jump. This year the team was largely made up of underclassmen and the prospects for next year are very good. The team's record in dual meets was 2-3. However, they faired better in larger meets such as the Fairfax County one where they placed fourth out of sixteen teams. In the Northern District Meet, Rick Leobold won the 440, Bill Ragetté won the discus, and Nick Dellamonico tied the county record for the pole vault. Four Madison boys, Rick Leobold, Nick Dellamonico, Mike Scurto, and Frank O'Hara went to the state competition. Thanks to Coach Cannon's direction and the boys' hard work, the year was a successful one.

For the first time at Madison the Tennis Team participated in the Northern Virginia Tennis League. Although the team did not have a very successful season with a record of 2-7, the boys gained valuable experience under Coach Chaudet's guidance. Curt Rathburn and Bob Tigner had winning seasons with records of 8-1 and 6-3 respectively.

"Tempted, Tried and True"

The words "Curses, foiled again!" were heard from the stage as the James Madison drama department presented its first old-time melodrama — DIRTY WORK AT THE CROSSROADS, under the direction of Mrs. Brown, the drama teacher. The play, an adaptation of an early popular melodrama, was presented in the traditional fashion, with stylized movements and talking, and stock characters. The audience was encouraged to "boo" and "hiss", clap, cry, and even throw coins during the action. A Barbershop Quartet, a chorus line and audience "sing-along" added the excitement between acts. The whole evening of fun was climaxed by the daring rescue of the hero, who was tied to the railroad tracks, and the final downfall of the villain.

Villain Munro, Dana Owen, and villainess Ida, Doris Stiegman, listen in wicked expectation as the hero Adam, John Jamerson, reads the "cursed" letter to the farmhand Mookie, Randy Vitray, the dying Widow Lovelace, Milene Purdy, and the distraught heroine Nellie, Chris Williams.

Outstanding Students

The red light flashes "On the Air" and area viewers see the 1966 Madison It's Academic team. Under the guidance of Mr. Strohm and Mrs. Donohoe, team captain Carol Farlow, James Long, and Richard Cross won their first competition and went to the area run-offs. The team was an excellent example of Madison's scholastic ability.

This year's student speakers for graduation, chosen by the senior class, were Ken Vickery and Morie Moyer.

Betty Ryon, Betsy Stanley, Judy Mouldin, Morion McAmis, and Don Lemons were chosen to be the representatives from Madison to Boys' and Girls' State for this past summer.

John Baker and Marie Mayer were awarded the Vienna Optimist Club's Youth Appreciation Award.

Students Prove Examples of Good Citizenship

Madison students became Merit Scholarship Finalists. With seven Merit Scholarship Finalists, the class of '66 topped Madison's previous record in this area. One of the seven finalists went on to win a scholarship. Carol Farlow was awarded an Air Force Scholarship to Stanford University.

Marie Mayer received the D.A.R. Citizenship Award.

Moyer and Phillips Rank First in Class of 398.

This year from the Class of '66, two students were named Valedictorian — Marie Moyer and Alicia Phillips. Both had a straight A average for their four years of high school. The others in the top ten are, in order:

- Carolyn Zeul
- Linda Bowers
- Rose Sheats
- Betsy Stanley
- Mike Elliot
- Carol Farlow, Keith Robbins, and Betty Ryan

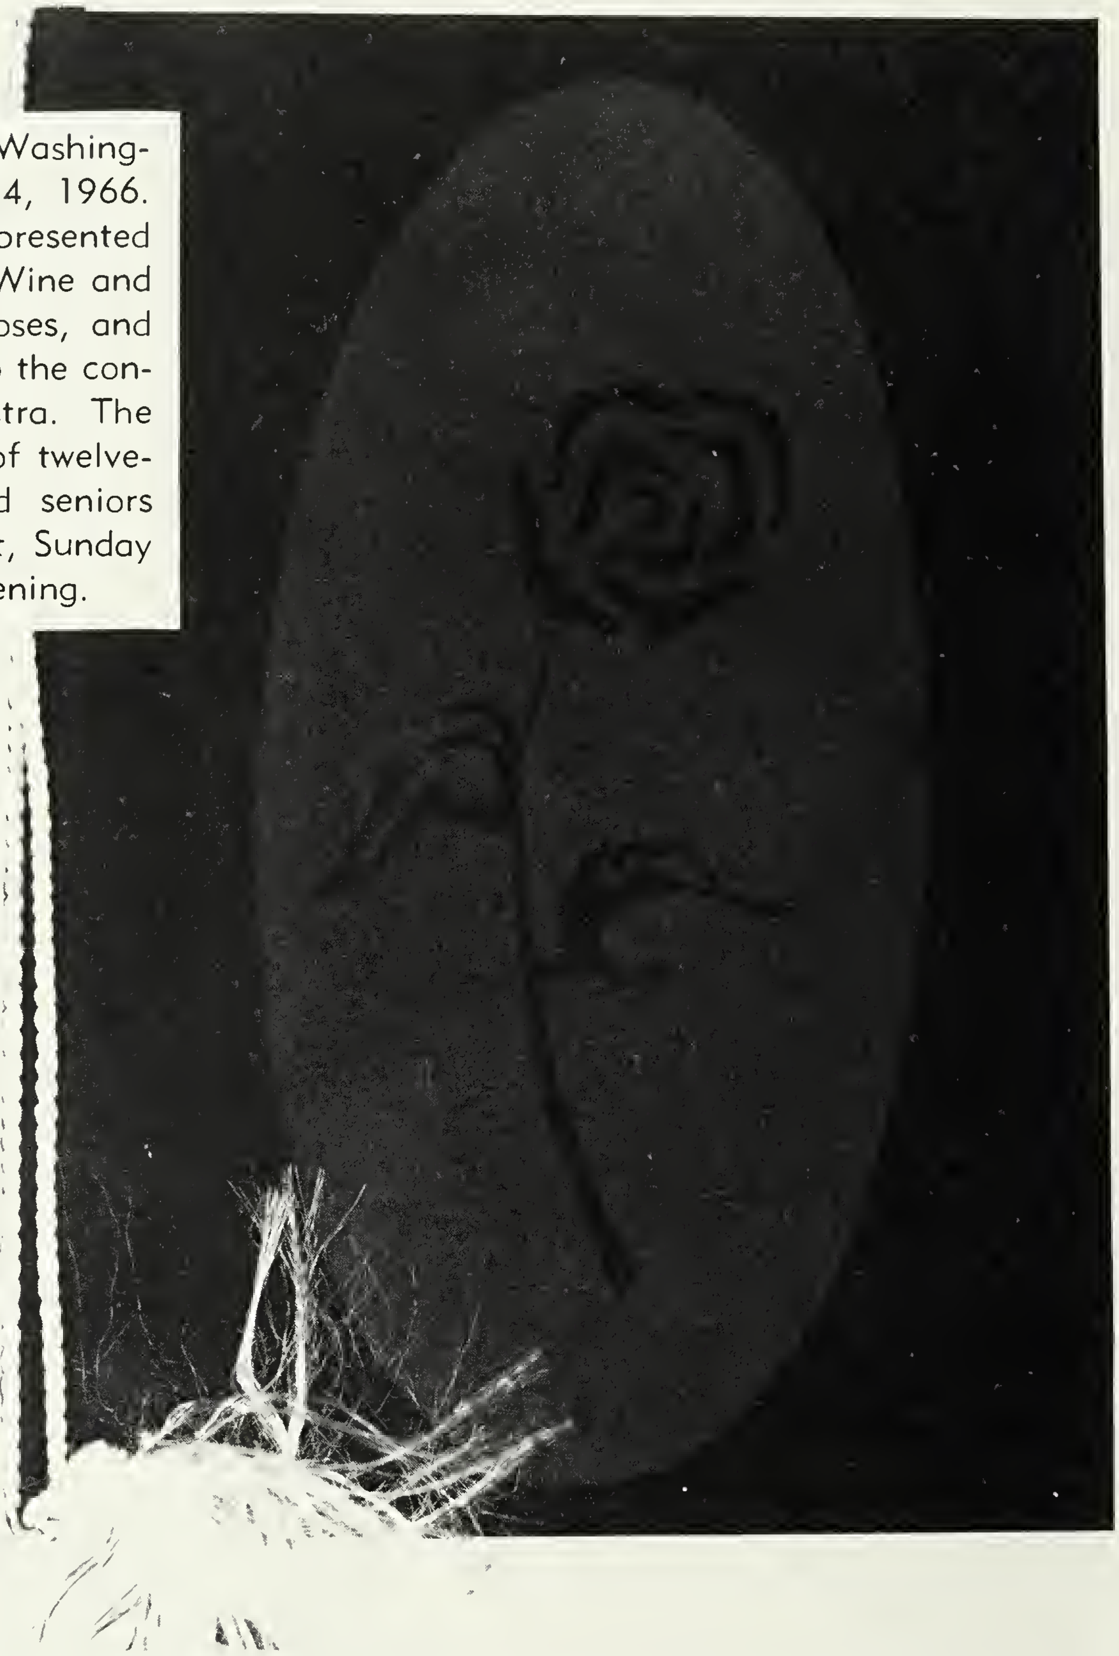
After The Prom

The scene is the Grand Ballroom of the Washington Hilton Hotel on the evening of June 4, 1966. After months of planning the Junior Class presented as its gift to the class of '66 the "Days of Wine and Roses." Amid white orchids, sweetheart roses, and flickering lamps, Madison's finest danced to the congenial music of Fred Perry and his Orchestra. The evening slowly slipped by with the coming of twelve-thirty and Madison's anxious juniors and seniors eagerly looked forward to 4 A.M. breakfast, Sunday at Ocean City and graduation Monday evening.



While waiting for a glass of "Wine and Roses" punch, Sue Stanley rests for a few minutes in the lobby of the Washington Hilton.

DAYS OF WINE AND ROSES

The days of wine and roses
Laugh and run away, like a child at play,
Through a meadowland that art a closing door;

That wasn't there before.
A lonely night discloses
Just a passing breeze, filled with memories
Of a folden smile that introduced me to
The days of wine and roses and you.
